

“The Changing Contours of World Mission and Christianity”
A Conference of the Schools of the Boston Theological Institute

November 4 – 7, 2010

Hospitality

We hope that your time attending the conference, “The Changing Contours of World Mission and Christianity,” fourth in a series of Edinburgh 2010 conferences, will be informative, stimulating and edifying. We also hope to provide you with the best hospitality possible. Please take note of the following toward this end:

Hospitality Centers

There are four identified Hospitality Centers are open during the days of the conference where you may register for the conference, join in conversation with others, pick up information about 2010boston or simply rest along the way with a cup of tea or fair trade coffee. These are located at Park Street Church, Boston University School of Theology, Andover Newton Theological School and the Walker Center. Those who have registered in advance are guaranteed conference tote bags and materials.

Trolley Tickets

Many people study and cherish Boston's rich and colorful history with its ideas of liberty, freedom, democratic concepts – and home to many different mission movements! Few, however, are aware of Boston as the birthplace of American mass transportation.

Most of the conference which takes place at 6 locations is accessible by public transportation, specifically the MBTA trolley line (Green and Red Lines). We strongly encourage you to purchase a mass transit pass by going to the MBTA website at www.mbta.com.

A One ($9) or Seven ($15) Day LinkPass is ideal for Boston visitors; it's valid for unlimited use during the preset time for Subway, Local Bus, Commuter Rail Zone 1A and Inner Harbor Ferry travel. Purchase a pass at over 500 in-station fare vending machines or retail sales locations. To obtain assistance, please call (617) 222-4545. Please note a minimum of two weeks advanced request is preferred for group sales.

Hospitality Bags

These will be available at the time of registration, guaranteed to advance registrants.

Website and Streaming Video

Provision is being made for streaming video and other forms of internet activity in connection with the conference. Call or email the office of the Boston Theological Institute for details (617-527-4880; btioffice@bostontheological.org).

Trolley Tours

Schools of the Boston Theological Institute: Self-guided and organized trolley tours of the schools of the Boston Theological Institute in the context of Boston church and religious history are available through www.heritages-and-horizons.org.

Mission Tours: Self-guided and organized trolley tours of historic sites in the history of mission in the Boston area are available on this website. Call or email the office of the Boston Theological Institute for details (617-527-4880; btioffice@bostontheological.org).